15 April 2016 8:30-10 am

Boca – GS 214B and Jupiter Inlet Lighthouse, 1003 Tropicana Blvd, Boca Raton, FL 33431

: Dean Ed Pratt and Dr. Donna Chamely-Wiik

Guests: C. Elisa Gaucher, Assistant Vice President for Research and Dr. Ximena Levy, Assistant Director, Human Research Protections Program

First item was the presentation (with handouts) by E. Gaucher (with Dr. Levy's assistance) on research compliance in general and honors capstone projects in specific. Questions also arose as to when in the process of applying to do an upper-division honors project should the IRB compliance issues should be addressed. For new upper-division honors programs, there should be a list to help students and advisors figure out if they need to go through the IRB compliance steps. Other questions involved programs which had been grandfathered and if they should be revisited for compliance verification. E. Gaucher showed us the website where students can complete a CITI training. Members of the committee agreed that our Manual should be revised in order to incorporate language related to honors capstone projects being compliant.
